Maximum bids and sliding end times

Maximum bids

The DVLA Timed online auction runs on the principle of “maximum bids”. Bidders submit “maximum bids” which are invisible to other bidders.

Bidding starts at the Starting price*. If there is any bidding on a lot, the auction system will automatically increase bids on behalf of bidders in £10 increments. Once a bidder’s “maximum bid” has been reached, the system will stop bidding for them.

The current winning bid price for each registration is on view on the website at all times.

Sliding end time

The “sliding end time” is a mechanism to prevent auction sniping, or the practise of rival bidders outbidding each other with just seconds to go before the deadline. Every lot has a published “end time” clearly visible on the website at all times. This is the deadline by which all bids must be received.

If there’s any bidding in the last 30 minutes before the end time, the end time will slide by a further 30 minutes, thereby allowing bidding to reach its natural conclusion.

The screenshot shows the DVLA Auctions of Personalised Registrations website. The header includes the DVLA logo, navigation links (Home, Current Auction, Upcoming Auction, Future Auctions, Register / Login, Bidding Instructions, Questions & Answers, Keep Me Informed, Terms & Conditions, Contact), and a login/register section. The main content area displays a list of registration lots with columns for Lot No, Registration, Starting Price, Current Price, and End time. Annotations with arrows point to specific elements: 'Starting price' points to the 'Starting Price' column; 'End time' points to the 'End time' column; 'Click on the registration plate to start bidding or to add to watch list' points to the registration plate (e.g., A24 AAD); and 'Current winning bid' points to the 'Current Price' column.

What will it cost?

It is important to set yourself a limit before you bid and stick to it. When doing this, please bear in mind that the sale price (also called the “hammer price”) is subject to VAT, the auctioneer’s buyer’s premium together with the assignment fee.

The full invoice total is shown each time you enter a bid (before you click ‘Accept and bid’), so you will always know the total payable if you are successful. Late payment charges apply. See T&C’s. Taxes, premiums and fees correct at time of printing.

Questions and answers

How do “maximum bids” work?

Bidders have the option to submit maximum bids which are invisible to other bidders. If there is competitive bidding on a lot, the auction system will automatically increase bids on behalf of bidders in £10 increments. Once a bidder’s maximum bid has been reached, the system will cease bidding. The current winning bid for each lot is always on view on the website.

When maximum bids are matched, the bidding system will accept both, but only the bid received first will show as currently winning the registration. The opposing bidder will receive an immediate on screen outbid notification and email and text (if requested) confirming their outbid status. A higher bid can be placed if they so wish.

How do the “sliding end times” work?

The “sliding end time” is a mechanism to prevent auction sniping, or the practise of rival bidders outbidding each other with just seconds to go before the deadline.

Every lot has a published “end time” on the website which is the deadline by which all bids must be received. If there is any bidding activity in the final 30 minutes before the deadline it will cause the end time to slip back a further 30 minutes and will continue to do so until bidding has reached its conclusion.

How can I submit my bids?

Bids can be placed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week on the dedicated DVLA Timed online auction website.

It’s free and easy to use and you can submit your bids securely. Once you have placed your bids, you will have the freedom to increase your bids up until the end time. You cannot cancel bids once placed.

What are starting prices?

Starting prices are the minimum prices at which lots will be sold. All registrations have a starting price*. Please note that these do not include the additional charges of VAT, buyer’s premium + VAT and assignment fee. The eventual selling price will depend on demand in the auction. You may like to check our auction sold facility:

dvlaregistrations.dvla.gov.uk/search/previous-auction-plates.html to see what similar registrations have sold for at previous auctions.

What bids will the auctioneer take?

The lowest bid that will be accepted is the starting price for each lot. You can make any bid you like above the starting price but it must be in increments of £10. No bids in pence will be taken.

How can I find out what other bids people have made?

The current highest bid on each lot will be visible at all times. You cannot view the maximum bids of other bidders.

How do I know if I have been outbid?

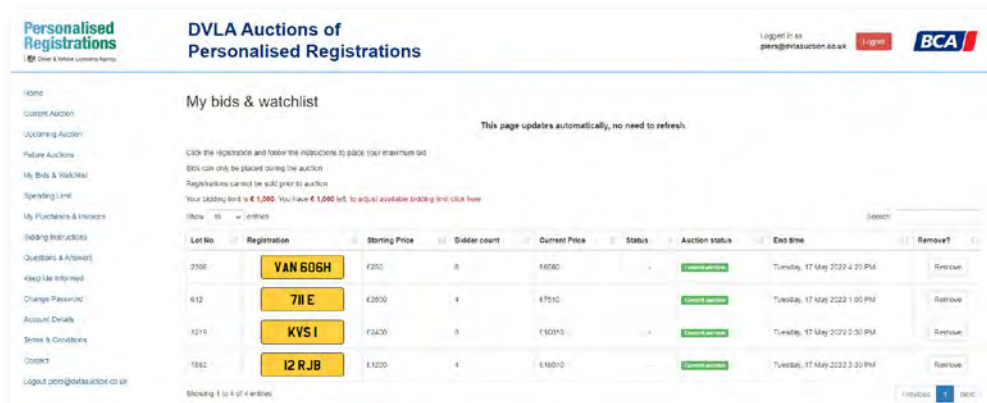

You will be able to see online the status of all the lots on which you have placed a bid. If your maximum bid has been exceeded by another bidder, you will be sent an email to inform you (or a text message if you have selected this option). You may then be able to increase your maximum bid before the end time.

Please note that we cannot guarantee that all text messages will be received as some phone carriers block these messages. Similarly, if an email is not received, please check your junk/spam folder.

See top of next page for an example of the watch list screen.

*All purchases are subject to VAT, a buyer’s premium of 7% + VAT and an £80 assignment fee. A deposit may be required in order to bid. E&OE.

Questions and answers

Watch list

When you are logged in this screen will show the bids you have made and the current status of those bids.

When will the results be published?

The final prices for all lots will be visible online at the end of the auction.

How will I know if I've been successful?

If you bid online, you will be informed by email soon after the lot end time has been reached.

Please be sure to check your junk/spam folder. You can then find your invoice on your account under 'My Purchases & Invoices'.

When do I need to pay?

If you are successful, payment is due within 5 working days of the auction, including VAT, a buyer's premium of 7% + VAT and an £80 assignment fee. Payment can be made by credit or debit (except Amex). We do not accept cheques or cash. Late payment charges apply. Please see Terms & Conditions.

What happens to registrations that do not reach their starting price?

The auctioneer will not accept any bid on a registration that is below the starting price. If a registration does not receive a bid at all, it will be declared as "Unsold". The DVLA may, at its discretion, include such registrations in future auctions.

Can I place a DVLA registration on a vehicle registered in Northern Ireland?

Registration numbers can be purchased from the DVLA if you live in Northern Ireland, and can be assigned directly onto a vehicle registered in GB or Northern Ireland.

Are there any extra costs required to assign a registration to a vehicle?

All registrations purchased in a DVLA auction are supplied on a V750 Certificate of Entitlement and the assignment fee is included in the final purchase price (see 'What will it cost?' on page 52). There is no further charge for DVLA to assign that registration to a vehicle registered in the name of either the purchaser or the nominee (if specified). However, please note that some insurance companies may charge an administration fee to record the transfer of a registration mark onto a vehicle and to supply a new Certificate of Motor Insurance. You will also have to pay to have the new number plates created for your vehicle.

*All purchases are subject to VAT, a buyer's premium of 7% + VAT and an £80 assignment fee. A deposit may be required in order to bid. E&OE.

How to pay

When do I pay?

Sale of registration marks regulations 1995

On the sale of a lot a legally binding contract is formed between the purchaser and the Secretary of State for Transport.

The purchaser has 10 years to assign the registration number to a chosen vehicle; the entitlement period can be extended shortly before expiry upon application.

Registration numbers can be assigned to a vehicle registered in the name of the purchaser or a vehicle registered in the name of the nominee if nominee details were provided on the bidder registration application. Following a purchase the nominee details may be changed upon application to the DVLA. There is no fee.

The registration number can be assigned to a vehicle which is registered, or about to be registered, in GB or Northern Ireland and which is an appropriate age to receive the registration number. At the time of assignment the vehicle must be licensed, of a testable type and have a test certificate in force, if applicable.

Once the registration has been assigned it may be transferred to another vehicle subject to the DVLA's transfer rules.

It is an offence to mis-represent the registration number in any way.
